

The San Francisco Human Services Network presents our fifth public policy conference:

New Realities 5: Developing a Nonprofit Policy Platform to Address Income Inequality in a Changing San Francisco
Thursday, October 29, 2015

New Realities 5 will bring together San Francisco's nonprofit health and human service sector and other community advocates to educate and engage leaders and workers in developing policy solutions to our City's income inequality crisis. We will examine key questions about people's ability to stay and thrive in San Francisco, and the challenges that threaten our sector's ability to maintain services for those who are most vulnerable in our rapidly changing City.
